Wilson's Laundry Sold.

It is reported that Wilson's Steam Laundry has changed hands and that Mr. Albert Shelby, of Louisville, is the proprietor and that a new brick building will be erected at some suitable point not yet definitely deeided on by Mr. R. W. Wilson and the laundry machinery will be moved to it and that the old mill is to be run as a flouring and grist mill again under the management of Mr. J. W. Wilson, which assures its success from the beginning. Mr. Shelby, the new proprietor of the laundry, is well known here, being a brother of Mesdames G. P. Roberts and J. W. Wilson whom he has visited frequently and is a Prime favorite in Marion society. The success of the laundry under his management is assured Mesdames Brookshire and McCaslin from the start, as he has had considerable business experience for one of his age. He relinquished a lucrative position in Louisville to come to Marion.

> The regular annual exodus of the wife, because she has a restless deshe has friends who insist on her accompaning them, or because she fears the neighbors will think she eannot afford to go away-these are the forms of voluntary separation for weeks and months that are dangerous and sometimes even prove a short cut from matrimony to alimony.

> The theory that hasband and wife should be separated occasionally so that they may appreciate each other the more is a dangerous doctrine. Vacations with each other may be miniature honeymoons, bringing renewed love to both, but long vacations from each other are what the insurance companies term "extrahazardous-risks."-William George Gordon in the June Delinestor.
